

what does an arrow even mean?

By Alex Gerhard

lead makes soft points and softer promises, at the end of all things the wind touches your hair the water your feet my spittle your lips you laugh at the end of all things did you feel the bank the edge the stones the end a new leaf your father's kiss did you feel the end the edge the curve the slide the river the bank the death the bud the branch the end the edge the feel did you feel did you feel did you laugh oh great sway oh sap spray wreath unbroken brown oh end of all things did you feel you did you
